Research interests

My research interests lie at the intersection of cognitive psychology and sociolinguistics. I investigate and challenge the boundaries between dialects and languages with EEG, behavioral methods, and field work. My particular areas of study include syntactic variation, code-switching, and network models of language.

Education

The Pennsylvania State University

PH.D., PSYCHOLOGY AND LANGUAGE SCIENCE, SPECIALIZATION IN COGNITIVE AND AFFECTIVE NEUROSCIENCE

University Park, Pennsylvania

2018 - present

- Advisor: Dr. Janet G. van Hell

The Pennsylvania State University

M.S., PSYCHOLOGY

University Park, Pennsylvania

2018 - 2020

- Advisor: Dr. Janet G. van Hell
- Master's thesis: We "might could" revisit syntactic processing: Studying dialectal variation with event-related potentials

The University of Chicago

B.A., PSYCHOLOGY, MINOR IN LINGUISTICS

Chicago, Illinois

2011 - 2015

- Advisor: Dr. Daniel Casasanto
- Honors thesis: Does linguistic experience change mental representations of pitch?

Research experience

Bilingualism and Language Development Lab

University Park, Pennsylvania

GRADUATE STUDENT

Aug 2018 - present

- Principal investigator: Dr. Janet G. van Hell
- Research areas: language processing and dialectal variation
- Responsibilities: design, implement, and run EEG and behavioral experiments with E-Prime; process and analyze experimental data with R and MATLAB; mentor undergraduate research assistants; maintain lab equipment and supplies

Experience and Cognition Lab

Chicago, Illinois

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT

Sep 2013 - Jun 2015

- Principal investigator: Dr. Daniel Casasanto
- Research areas: embodied cognition and linguistic relativity
- Responsibilities: train, run, and debrief participants; code and analyze experimental data with ELAN and R; create new experiments with Python

Professional experience

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

Washington, District of Columbia

FINANCIAL ANALYST

Jul 2017 - Jul 2018
